Dear Colleague,

first of all, thank you for your interest in our journal. We propose the following deadlines for receipt of your paper (an article, a translation or a review):

The first issue   Dec. 1 (to be published in January)
The second issue   April 1 (to be published in June)

Below are some recommendations and guidelines,

Yours,
Eugene Afonasin
afonasin@gmail.com

Guidelines

Language

We accept articles written in English or Russian. If the submission includes Greek, Arabic, or other specialized fonts, the font name should be specified (preferably an Unicode). The author is responsible for a correct use of the language chosen; if not a native speaker him/herself, s/he is strongly encouraged to have the contribution checked by a native speaker.

Structure

Articles should be organized in the following order: title, abstract (only for articles), keywords (only for articles), body text, footnotes, and bibliography.

Title

The title of an accepted article should have the following format:

Platonism and the World Crisis

John Dillon
Trinity College, Dublin
e-mail

Abstract

Articles should include an English abstract of up to 300 words. It should give a brief summary of the article or an outline of its argumentation, or sum up the points discussed. It should be headed by Abstract

Keywords

An article should be provided with 2-6 keywords for indexing purposes. They should be placed below the abstract. The keywords should be lower case and headed by
Keywords

Section Titles

A contribution may be subdivided into sections, headed by section titles. A first-order section title should have the following format:

All Power Devolves from the One and Returns to It

A second-order section title (sub title) should have the following format:

The Intellect as a Mean Between the One and the Soul

Formatting

Articles should be in an Unicode font, 12 point; footnotes in 11-point; bibliography at the end in 11-point. All margins should be one inch (2.5 centimeters). Longer quotations should be indented. Authors should submit their papers in both Microsoft Word and pdf versions.

References in the Abstract, Body Text, and in the Footnotes

We follow the rules of the Chicago Manual of Style. Submissions should include a bibliography. Footnotes are preferred. Footnote references to items in the bibliography should be as follows: the initials of the author's first name(s), last name, publication date in parentheses, page number(s). For example: A. Laks (2008) 77–79; (Laks 2008, 82–95); Laks (2008), etc.

Examples of bibliographical references:

Laks, A. (2008) Diogène d'Apollonie. Edition, traduction et commentaire des fragments et témoignages. Sankt Augustin.

Shaw, J. R. (1977) "A Note on the Anatomical and Philosophical Claims of Diogenes of Apollonia," Apeiron 11, 53–57.

Vander Waerdt, P. A. (1994) "Socrates in the Clouds," in: P. A. Vander Waerdt, ed. The Socratic Movement. Ithaca, N. Y., 48–86.